1829	The Bog	TELFORD John; BRYCE John; HENDERSON James; FAICHNEY William; ROBB Andrew	In March 1829, succession of ownership of the Telford properties and lands known as The Bog passed from the deceased John Telford , still described as a Wright in Blairlogie , to his son, also John Telford and was confirmed by the immediate feu superior Mrs. Elizabeth Spittal of Blair . Delineations of the property, now officially designated as The Bog , again mentioned the adjoining lands of the shoemaker John Bryce , James Henderson on the East and a new name, William Faichney to the North. Mrs. Spittal's Baillie at this time is named as Andrew Robb – another shoemaker of Blairlogie .

1825	The Bog	TELFORD/TELFOORD John	In March 1825, the land, house , barn and stable known as The Bog on the East of Blairlogie was owned by John Telford, wright of Blairlogie. The genealogy of the Telford family suggests that he was the direct inheritor (being the first born son) of James Telford, himself the son of John Tellfoord.
